“ Well it's hard to write this. I honestly dont have words. I remember you hanging with my brother Josh. I really appreciated you coming to my wedding back in the day. Yiu had a huge heart and you where a funny dude. Once I got to know you I thought of you like another little brother. Gonna miss your encouragement. I known I'll see you in the next life my friend . Although our hearts are broken my friend fly high and sing with angles. Love you little brother from another mother
