“ DADDY I remember as You held my hand as you walked me home from school and me sliding on the ice and as I grew somehow we grew away from each other. I am however so glad to have had the chance over the last five years to get to grow and know you again and to let you into my life. These past years no matter how good or bad each day was or became was a blessing for me to hold your hand through them. I wouldn't give them back no matter how hard they were for anything because they let me become one again with my loving caring father. We shared times that I will cherish forever and talks and secrets that I know now and will keep close to my heart the special things between us that we shared will forever warm my heart. I miss you DADDY very much and I will always be your little girl and you will always be the only man in my life that loved me more then anyone ever could and for that I WILL ALWAYS LOVE YOU REST NOW DADDY AND BE AT PEACE IN HEAVEN KNOWING THAT EVERYTHING IS OKAY AND WE , YOUR FAMILY, HAVE AND WILL FOREVER LOVE YOU....
