“ Brenda was a very dear friend for a number of years. It was difficult to watch her struggle with health issues and still continue working. Brenda had a huge capacity for loving and caring. Her hospice work proved that over a lot of years. When my son was dying, Brenda sat in the OR with him holding his hand because she knew I would not have been able to stand it. I was in an adjoining room with my cousin Doris praying all during the process once he was removed from life support. My appreciation of Brenda's caring, loving, and merciful attitude toward others cannot be measured by simple words--gratitude, for instance. Brenda was simply and wonderfully just an awesome human being.
