“ Mom, I never dreamed I would be doing this so soon. There are no words that can adequately express the grief I feel, but you would be happy to know that there are many out there who loved you and cherished you. I have heard so many wonderful stories and memories about you. I know you are at peace now, and that gives me comfort. I love you, Mom. Rest in peace.

“ It's always hard when someone passes away that was a major part of your life. It leaves a hole in your heart that can never be refilled. I've decided to share a memory that might surprise her girls and maybe bring a little smile to their faces at the thought. When Cathy and I went out, often when we got home we would sit in the car for quite a while. You probably thought we were chatting. No, we were singing... loud and corny. C a t h y's voice was definitely better than mine so I'm not sure how she stood the pain of my gobblingbut we had fun trying to harmonize and recalling the words of ancient tunes. Kris and Kelly, I love you both and I'm sorry for the heartache you're going through right now. I am always here.
