“ On Saturday will be my last time seeing you here on this earth. I miss you already and always will. We have had so many good times that I couldn't even count them with my fingers and toes. I have alwaysed enjoyed every minute we spent together and I would'nt trade it for anythink in the world. I feel so lost without out and I wished I NEVER left that morning but i hsd to grt out of thr hospital. I hopr you finally understood. We have had many laughs togrther and many talks through or lives about different thinks, but one thing is for sure we started being best friends at an early age and we have continued on.
