“ Hey Cory, you may not quite remember me, but I know I remember you. We had some classes together in middle school, before I moved to Dunnellon. I dont exactly know what happened, or even the truth of it all. I wish I did though, But one class I specifically remember having you in was Home Economics. We sat right next to eachother. You were always so sweet and funny, a great person to be around. I really miss you. Its funny how the last thing that we always expect seems to happen just about 80% of the time, so why would we expect different? Maybe because we have some sort of hope? Or fear? Either way, we cant hide from it. Death is a hard thing to take in, no matter how long it has been since the actual time of death. It isnt easy to accept but eventually everyone does. Thats when we will all be up there with you, laughing and smiling like we used to. If I would have known sooner... I love and miss you friend. Rest in Peace, for always. And dont ever forget that you are loved, and you are in our hearts whether youre here or there. I will never forget you. Hopefully maybe we will catch up one day :) Who knows. But whatever you do, wait for us, in time, everything will be okay.

“ R.I.P Cory you will be missed. It breaks my heart to know your really not here anymore & that your gone forever. It doesnt feel like its real, but it is. I'm still in shock. But I will NEVER forget your smile with your dimples. Its a forever captured memory. & all the memories I have on the school bus with you all those years. I wont ever forget you.
