“ We can be sure Mom is very pleased and honored to see that you all could make it here this morning to share in this with us, as it was her family and friends who were the most important focus of her life. It was also your continued support, well wishes and prayers which were so valuable to her in her final weeks. My mother, Doris, the girl born on the farm in Oconto, Wisconsin the girl raised on the farm in Schaeffer, Michigan, the person who raised giggling to an art form, Dad's wife and partner for more than 70 years, sister to 12 siblings, the mother who raised five children and then helped them raise her grandchildren, the neighbor and friend to many of you, was a person who lived by God's commandment to love others as you would love yourself. To the best of my knowledge she never had an enemy in the 90 years of her life. Mom lived her life quietly serving those around her. Mom chose to communicate her love primarily through serving others and leading through example. Helen Keller wrote, "so long as you can sweeten another's pain, life is not in vain.... I long to accomplish a great and noble task, but it is my chief duty to accomplish humble tasks as though they were great and noble." Mom is great and noble. Her generosity with her time, her energy, her advice, and in so many other ways provided invaluable support to a remarkable number of people. She was quick to surmount adversity in order to giggle again. Over the years, and over the past few days, I've heard many stories of friends, relatives, and neighbors to whom Mom provided help and support. It is only natural that those of us on the receiving end of Mom's generosity feel that we have lost her energy, advice, and support, that we will never again hear her hallmark giggling. Be assured, that is not the case. She is with the Lord. From her position with Him, she will be with us always to help and guide us. Her gigles will always be with us.

“ What a loss. I cannot express what we feel about Doris, such a good friend very devoted. Doris was such a wonderful help with my Mother and Aunt Catharine giving them the best of care. Such an exceptional lady. We will remember her at lunch and remember the past ones she attended, she will never be forgotten for the gifts of her joy she gave to us all. Doris we love you.
