“ Paul met Ed over 50 years ago. He became his accountant and quickly became a wonderful friend. Last time we saw Ed and Ellie was in Reno, Nevada. They were attending an accounting convention, and we flew up to meet them. We had a ball. Paul hadn't seen him in 30 years and he was as effervescent as always. Ed was always available to talk about sports, politics and personal matters. We will miss the daily e-mails that brought smiles into our lives. He was one of a kind. A throw-back to the old days. He will be missed dearly, he cannot be replaced. Paul and Bobbi

“ I had the pleasure of a visit a few years ago. What has stuck in my mind is how he watched his wife through the window. I asked why he was spying on her . He told me he worried about her out with her horses because she got dizzy at times. He didn't want her to know he did this, he felt she would get upset.

“ I have known Ed since the early 70's when he was the accountant for Listening Booth/Shulman Records. He has been not only my personal accountant for years, but also a good friend. He put up a good fight, and now he suffers no more pain. He was a treasure to know, and will be sorely missed.. May the EAGLES have a good season this year as I know Ed will be watching from above... Comfort to Ellie and the rest of his family.

“ We are so very sad. However, no one ever leaves as long as they are remembered. And we have very fond memories. Ed will be remembered by many. Our love to Ellie and family.

“ There are a lot of overused verbage when it comes to memorials for the departed, but Ed was truly one of a kind. He was definitely the type of person you always wanted on your side. I had a lot of rocky times when Ed helped me during my first life both as a friend and financially. He was definitely a force to be reckoned with!

“ Dear Ed, We are saddened by the news of your passing. You always lived large and we hope your retirement years in Ocala were all you hoped they would be. I'm glad I was able to see you one more time this past April. May heaven have a great football team!! Your Sunday dinner during football season will be missed but heaven has gained a great cook. When it storms we'll know its you yelling at the team. LOL. You will be missed but never forgotten.

“ Dearest Ellie, Randi and Eric, All of our prayers, positive thoughts, and hard work from his medical team, didn't provide the miracle that we were all looking and hoping for. You guys were right on the money "he lived life on his own terms", and that's the way it should be. As the years go on Life looks less and less "Golden" all of the time. It makes you realize that every day must be lived and appreciated to the fullest. Do what you want, when you want, as long as it doesn't hurt others. You guys are blood and family, but as an outsider and an acquaintance, I can, and will accept, the many years of good memories, stories and friendship that were afforded to me by Ed. May Ed RIP in the heavens above, and away from the pain and suffering; where there is solitude, but no NFL games on Sunday. Rest assured that I will speak to Jeffrey Lurie personally and see if I can get the games transmitted to Ed. Warmest personal regards, PRW

“ I well remember the lively conversations we had about football in general, and the Eagles in particular. In addition, we had many, somewhat heated, political discussions, and I will greatly miss those moments in time. Please accept my most sincere condolences and know that Ed will be missed by all that knew and admired him; particularly me. Milt Weisman

“ A real man who will truly be missed by all who came to know him. Ed and Eleanor became clients back in Dec 2011, but quickly became friends. The two hours I got to spend with him earlier this month was a blessing, I even got to know about the world famous white house and their great food. Ed shared with me his car accident years ago and said I cheated live then so if I go now its OK, Ed never cheated anything the Lord just chose now to take him home, God Bless Eleanor, and our prayers and thoughts are with the family.
