“ This summer at a bbq, an 89 year old man brought excitement and happiness to a one year old boy while playing with a remote control car. The combined laughter of Jeremiah and Elmer is a fond memory. Elmer and I had recently started what I hoped would be a long tradition, Thursday clam special at Di'Orios. We would talk, laugh, and I came to know Elmer as a man who would acknowledge a few shades of gray, but basically saw things in black and white, not afraid to speak his mind, and certainly true to himself. I only got to share clam night twice with Elmer, but man did we eat some clams, share some laughs, and make some memories! I recently was reading that Elmer was a race car driver when he was younger. Something tells me that when he arrived at the pearly gates, he wasn't all prim and proper, but most likely came sliding in sideways saying "Wow, what a ride!". Miss you buddy:(Mom, sorry for your loss. Your son, Bill

“ Dear Mom - I am saddened by Elmer's recent passing and I am so sorry for your loss. It is truly a challenge at this time of year when we are celebrating the birth of Christ. I believe however, that Elmer more than anyone, would have wanted you to continue in that celebration this holiday season and to continue that throughout your life. You Mom, loved him and although it was a different love than that of Dad's it was a love that could be respected and honored. I know you had amazing times with Elmer and that is what you must always touch on and remember. That said, his quick passing was a gift to him and to you. I think we all know that. Certainly God intended this the way it was to be. You must always remember that God has a plan for you and it is good. We as a family were fortunate to have Elmer become a part of ours. He made us all smile, he made us all laugh and yes, at times he made us all mad. But most of all, without trying, he made us love him. That's what you get when you ask for a genuine guy, you get the real deal. Moving forward is what he would want for you. He would want your happiness and for you to take care of YOU, God would want the same and with the lord's grace your life will again turn a corner and lead you on a miraculous path. Ask and ye shall receive, but remember to SEEK (do the work and actions) behind the request...and then ye shall find. Loving you Mom. Your Son - Kurt
