“ I loved my Aunt Ethel so dearly. She was a ray of sunshine and a font of life wisdom. When I was in college at FSU, friends and I would often make the 500-mile trek to Miami for weekends, and she invariably greeted us with beds, coffee, and endless talks at the breakfast table. She was kind, funny and smart, and she loved all her kids and nieces and nephews fiercely. Rest now, dear Auntie, we love you so much.
