

Eugene Allan Lawrence

September 11, 1937 - November 5, 2025

Eugene Allan Lawrence, born on September 11, 1937, in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, passed away peacefully on November 5, 2025, at the age of 88 in Ocala, Florida.

Allan proudly served his country as a member of the United States Air Force, dedicating twenty years of distinguished service and achieving the rank of Master Sergeant before retiring. His commitment to his nation was matched by his dedication to his community, where he spent many years working as an electronic technician at a local television station and hospital in Baton Rouge.

A man of diverse interests, Allan found joy in remote-controlled airplanes, pursuits that reflected his love for precision and creativity. He was also an avid gardener, spending countless hours nurturing his plants and creating beauty in his surroundings.

Allan was a devoted member of Countryside Presbyterian Church, where he shared his faith and fellowship with many dear friends.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Eugene Allan Lawrence Sr. and Camille Rogers Lawrence. Allan leaves behind his beloved wife, Cholaine Lawrence, along with many loving family members, children, stepchildren, and cherished friends who will remember him for his kindness, dedication, and passion for life.

In memory of Allan Lawrence, his family and friends celebrate a life well-lived and a legacy of service, love, and community.

“ Sixteen years ago, we all moved into our newly built homes on 83rd Court Road around the same time, and we instantly became close friends and neighbors. We went to shows together, danced, chat and drank at the Square together, took fishing trips, and we often had wonderful block parties. At the very first block parties, someone asked how to spell Allan's name...is it with an E or an A? Let's say...Cholaine learned how to spell his name correctly that day.

Allan and Cholaine's wedding anniversary was in the same month as ours, and so we dressed up and went out for dinner every year to celebrate our anniversaries.

Allan is an early riser. He drove to the Super Walmart at 4:00AM to find bargains and shared the scoop with us whenever he could. Naturally, he goes to bed early also, like 7pm, so we often missed him towards the end of the fun gatherings.

We miss you, Allan. Good and fun memories are with us forever.
