

Gail F Holcombe

September 22, 1943 - June 1, 2026

Gail Holcombe, born on September 22, 1943, passed away peacefully on June 1, 2026, in Ocala, Florida, leaving behind a legacy of kindness, love, and steadfast faith that touched everyone who knew her.

Beyond her professional life, Gail was a devoted Christian whose faith guided her through every season of life. She lived with a gentle spirit and a heart that reflected her deep belief in God's goodness and grace. Her faith was not only a source of strength for herself, but also a comfort and inspiration to those around her. She was known as kind, loving, and faith-filled, and these words beautifully describe the way she lived and the way she will be remembered.

Gail was a devoted mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, and friend whose life was centered on family and faith. She is lovingly remembered by her twin daughters, Lynda Miller of Apopka, Florida, and Laura Harrison of Gainesville, Florida. She was preceded in death by her son, Richard Harrison, and by her beloved husband, Harold Holcombe. She was also preceded in death by her parents, Walter Lee Tanner and Bonnie Rebecca Tanner. Her memory lives on through her treasured grandchildren, Katie Anne Miller of Apopka, Florida, Richard Harrison of Ocala, Florida, and Matthew Harrison of Ocala, Florida, as well as her cherished great-grandchild, Naveah Williams of Ocala, Florida.

Gail treasured her family and found her greatest joy in spending time with those she loved. Whether gathered around the table, sharing stories, or simply enjoying the warmth of one another's company, she cherished the moments that brought her family together. Christmas was her favorite holiday, and she especially loved celebrating it with her family, creating memories that will be held close for generations to come. Her home and heart were always open to the people she loved most.

In addition to her devotion to family, Gail enjoyed acrylic painting, scrapbooking, cooking, and genealogy research. These interests reflected her creativity, her love of preserving memories, and her appreciation for the stories that connect generations. Through her painting and scrapbooking, she found meaningful ways to express herself and to capture life's special moments. Her love of genealogy also spoke to her deep respect for family history and the bonds that unite loved ones across time.

Those who knew Gail will remember her for her gentle presence, her loving nature, and the quiet strength that carried her through life. She was a woman of grace and dignity, and her influence will continue to be felt in the lives of her children, grandchildren, great-grandchild, and all who were blessed to know her. Her life was a testament to faith, devotion, and love freely given.

As Helen Keller once said, "What we have once enjoyed we can never lose. All that we love deeply becomes a part of us." Gail Holcombe will remain forever a part of the hearts of her family and friends, whose lives were enriched by her love, her example, and her enduring spirit.
