“ Dougie! I got a new tattoo. You would love it. It has Alot of meaning. It's been pretty hard recently with issues I thought would work out. I don't know what to do anymore. I am too much like Christ in my life. I get walked over time and time. Just confused on what to do this time. Please guide me. I need you buddy. I can't believe I can't call to talk to you cause you would help me out real well. You always have had good advice for me. I love you buddy. Miss you!

“ Well my friend the day has come again that has changed so many lives forever. It has now been 2 years since we lost you and for some it feels like yesterday. For some it has gotten easier to accept what has happened and to understand why it happened. But for others they are still struggling to deal with the fact that you are gone. One of those people is April. I hope you are with her at this time and guide her to understand what happened was what was destined for you in life. Things have gone very sour for us and for some reason I am the one she attacks when she is mad. I have asked for guidance on what I should do about that situation and the answer I have received is that I have to let her out of mine and Dane's life. I hope that is the right choice. I know you would not of wanted it this way but I have no choice. There is not a day that goes by where I dont think about you. Christmas was very nice this year. My family was able to go to Florida and be with Mom. Dad, Grammy, Aunt Martha, Marsha, Rob, and Gabby. It was such a wonderful time with them but, very hard to part ways. Dane made out like a bandit again this year with his gifts. He is very spoiled lol. Well I will let you sleep with the angels and I will write you again soon. I love you always. Jess

“ Happy Thanksgiving Doug! I'm thankful to have known you and have you in my life. The weirdest thing happened just now. I'm on my phone writing you this and as soon as I log in a song came on the radio. It was Amazed by lonestar! Remember that was our wedding song.... Lol I just thought it was kind of ironic that it happened lol anyways I love you and miss you all the time. Love one of your best friends! Jess

“Well its times like this when I wish u were here. I need someone just to ask me what's wrong and actually listen. U were one of those people. U always knew when something was bothering me and always listened. U had a joke most of the time but most of the time I felt u cared what was wrong with me. I just wanna pick up the phone to call u to hear the words " what's wrong Jess?" I would say nothing and u would always get it outta me. I miss u so much. Your birthday and holidays are approaching fast again. I can't believe its gonna be 2 years. Still feels like yesterday when a piece of me was taken. Well I'm gonna go. I love you.

“ Hi Darling just a note to let you know that you have been on my mind a lot!!! Every where that I turn it seems I catch a glimpse of you just to find out it is someone else. I miss you so much. but I know that you had to leave this earth when you did and that heavenly Father has a lot of work for you there. I Miss you. Dane is doing very well with Jessica and Jacob. He misses you a lot also. I spoke with April the other day and she is doing ok. She says she lost her whole family when you passed and she is still depressed. Take care and please help us we love and miss you. I don't think I will ever get over losing you but I know it was for a reason even if I don't know the reason I trust my HF to guide me along. “ Well it has been awhile since I have written on here. We are all doing well. Dane is getting ready to start 4th grade and is soooo excited. I can't believe how big he is getting. He is turning into such a handsome young man. He is not our little baby anymore lol. We just started the lessons to work our way up to getting him baptized. Dad said that is one thing you always wanted Dane to do. He is a little confused on the process but tells us he wants to get baptized so he can be with you when he finally leaves this earth. He is so smart. We are trying to teach him the other reasons behind it, but it is hard because sometimes I dont know the info myself. Jacob is so good with him. He teaches him a lot and is such a good role model in his life. I hope you are proud. I miss you and still think of you all the time. I wish I was closer to the family, but we are doing so well here in Texas. I keep in touch with them all the time. Well just wanted to write a little bit on here. Until next time may you RIP and sleep with the angels. I love you Doug, always will. Jessica!

“ Well Doug is 20 days our son is going to be 9 years old! Can you believe it? Seems like just yesterday he was born. I know I missed some years with him but I want you to know I am doing my best to do what's right for him. He passed the 3rd grade with good grades. He is a little nervous about 4th grade but he will get through it and do great. Father's Day is coming up and we are going to sit down and make a special card for you to put with the one he made you last year. When these special occasions come up it makes me/us miss you that much more.. You know it's funny the other day I was driving and a song came on that you used to blare in your car on the way home from work and that is how I knew you were almost home, I could hear it from a mile away..LOL I just sat and laughed... Little things like that make me remember some of the funny times we shared...I miss you Doug everyday... Mom & Dad and Grammy will be here in like 3 weeks and I am so excited.. I can't tell you how much I love them. They are taking Dane and going to visit Marsha whom is having another neice of yours. Her name is going to be Gaby. She is going through a hard time right now with her pregnancy. She just wants comfort. I hope you will be with her during the delivery and guide her along so that she may have a healthy babygirl.. Well that's my update for now.. I love and miss you.. Sleep well my friend=) Love always and forever Jess

“ Well Happy Memorial Day Doug!!! I miss you so much! Now I truley understand the meaning of memorial Day. I see your friends are still communicating here and they miss you so much. I know that Brandon in Vt was in total shock about your passing. I hope that he will call us and let us know how he is doing. It sure is funny how the web can find people that we have loss contact with so long ago. I see that you are still bringing everyone together in even from Heaven. You always had a big heart when it came to your friends. I love and miss you so much and your dad is still beside himself and he looks totally lost at times. We talk about you and all the fun things we used to do. 2 years ago on Memorial weekend you, April and Dane out at Fore Lake playing in the water and bbqing. How it seems like yesterday! Brian, Brandon and Dan miss you also. I saw Dan and his wife today, Dad saw them yesterday and they were really shocked. Dan said he and his wife Cheyenne talked about you all morning and then they saw me at McDonalds in Homosassa and they couldn't believe their eyes. Please continue watching over all of us . Dane misses you terribly but is doing well. Take care and I Love you. Love Mom 352.598.5164 Dougs Dad cell #

I want to thank you for shining down on me and looking out for me. U have helped me with so many obstacles as well as our savior. I pray every night and want you to know I believe in Christ. Prayers have slowly been answered for me lately and I am so lucky to be where I am at in life. Help me realize this more and not take anything for granted. I am where I have wanted to be all my life but still need to work on many things. I miss u buddy. Wish I could just give you a call but I know u are receiving my thoughts. Just want to say thanks for everything and god bless your family. P.s. Happy belated mothers day Sister Healey! Love your buddy, Brian*

“ Doug, To be honest i do not know where to start There so much i wanna tell you bro First off I know it has been several years since we were able to speak to each other. I will never forget the summer you moved away. The prior years we were always at each others house hanging out,swimming,do stuff kids do. Then the summer came and then fall and it was back to school, and this was a very special beginning of the school year for me as we both would be attending the same school for once. I searched for you the first few days and was unable to find you. Then someone told me you had moved away. I was crushed. I honestly did not know what to say nor do. I will admit I had anger towrds you for not telling me you were moving and for giving me no info on how to contact you. I was lucky enough to get periodical update fron little shane your neighbor. Then one day he said he lost contact with you as well. We had so many good times man. I remember hanging out in your back yard fishing in the brook and catching those baby fish. LOI we though we had done a strok of business. I remember spending the night at your place and you,marsha and I hanging out staying up late listening to music and talking. Your sister was so wonderful to us . She wasnt the normal big sister.she would actually hang out and have fun with us . She wasnt like most older sisters who want nothing to do with her little brother and his friends. She actually enjoyed being around us. Man did we all have some fun times. Do you remember coming over to my place and swimming in the pool for what seemd like hours?? We lived in that thing it seemed like. Once I graduated I would try so hard to make contact with you again. I was searching everywhere i could think of and was unable to locate you. I obtained a few email adresses and phone numbers but they always turned out to be the wrong person. I remember telling my parents that one day i will find you again and reunite. Well then came the day about a month ago where i was able to find you. What i found was not what i was looking to find. I came across this page. I thought to myself, this cant be right, It must be a dream. Then i read on a took in every message everyone has wrote to you. I know your up there laughing at me for telling you this lol, but i will be honest with you. I broke down. I just couldnt believe my eyes. At the same time that i felt so sad, i also felt so mad. So mad at myself for never being able to reconnect with you before you left us. I was lucky enough to make contact with Jessica who has helped me so much in my search of connecting with your family. She called your mom and sister and they both remembered me right away. I was touched to hear they remembered me. I thought for sure they wouldnt. Jessica also was wonderful with answering the questions i had. I plan on contacting your family soon to reunite with them and hopefully never loose touch with them. Im gonna go now man. I will definatly talk to you again soon. I miss you and love you bro. !!!

“ Well here I am again writing on here. I swear people are going to think I am the most depressed person with how many times I write on here. It just makes me feel better when I do. Like I am talking directly to you. I am in that stage again where I miss you terribly. I have been crying alot and under alot of stress. I have asked for strength so many times but just don't feel any relief yet. I just want one of my best friends back! But its never going to happen. At this point I don't know who still reads this but I look at it everyday. I will keep this letter short just needed to get some things off my mind.

“ So I was looking at pics of you the other day and I just broke down. I have not done that in so long. I felt like I had released so much stress afterwards.... I still miss you so much and know you are watching over everyone! I have reconnected with so much family and it is great. I have even connected with some of your old friends and I love hearing the stories they have about you and how wonderful you were/are. You were so special to so many people and they miss you dearly! Well just thinking of you and wanted to tell you goodnight and sleep well with the angels!

“ Sunny days seem to hurt the most Wear the pain like a heavy coat I feel you everywhere I go I see your smile, I see your face I hear you laughing in the rain Still can't believe you're gone Chorus: It ain't fair you died too young Like a story that had just begun The death tore the pages all away God knows how I miss you All the hell that I've been through Just knowing no one could take your place(instead of 'love away') Sometimes I wonder who you'd be today Would you see the world? Would you chase your dreams? Settle down with a family? I wonder, what would you name your babies? “ I know that we never met ... but from listening to all the stories Marsha has told me, I feel like I knew you well. I sincerely regret not having had the chance to get to know you before you left. your neices and nephews miss you dearly, and talk about you from time to time. it usually starts off with "remember when uncle Doug ..." they have good memories of you. william said that you were supposed to take him on a fishing trip before you left. I'm gonna take him on that trip for you. I'll tell him that it's the trip that you guys were gonna take, so he'll know that you kept your word. Your entire family misses you Doug ...including me.

“ Well I can't believe that it has been a year. Sometimes it feels like yesterday. There are days that the pain won't stop and days when it's not so bad. I know we had A LOT of hard times, but we were there for each other. I know that I have moved on with my life, but Brandon really helps me get through those rough days. I haven't been this happy for a while, since we first started dating. You could be such a awesome person, but you're addiction took over you. I sometimes wish that things could have ended differently, but now we know that you are NO LONGER in any more pain. I hated seeing you hurt everyday. I know you are watching over everyone of us and will help us get through the rough times. Please keep watching over Jessica and Dane. Dane misses you VERY much. I hurts me sooooo much when he calls and tells me crying, that he misses his daddy. I wish you could still be here for him. Even though I know you are still here for him just not in person. Well Doug I hope that you are doing well up in Heaven and hope to see you again some day. Love, Me

April Holsomback - December 31, 2010 at 12:00 AM

“ Doug, The tears are already rolling down my face. This has got to be my FINAL goodbye to you! 1 year ago at this time is when I got the most devastating call of my life. The voice on the other end of the phone was April and she told me you were not breathing. My heart just sank! After spending an hour on the phone with her and still not hearing any good news I knew this was the end of the road for you and your Heavenly Father called you home. I have been needing to close this chapter of my life for sometime now I just hate that I have to do it like this. I have been dealing with some emotional issues since your death. All these feelings have not come up until then... I just keep thinking what could of been? I am so sick of asking myself that because I will never get an answer. You know Doug it took me years to get over you. You were my first love, husband, and father of my first child. I will never forget those feelings. The day you left me for good tore me up so bad inside I did not think I would ever get passed it. Then I found Jacob and fell in love again, but you have always been in the back of my mind. Sometimes I did not think Jacob and I would work out and the first thing I thought about was it's ok Doug will take me back, and that was not fair to everyone involved... The emotions keep coming and going, First sadness, then anger, then sadness again. I have changed so much trying to deal with all of this and it is not for the better. I have become and weak person and allowed the depression to take over my life. It is affecting my children, husband, and family. I try to act like I am the stronger one of the bunch but inside I am heartbroken. To be honest I always prepared myself for that day I got the devastating phone call but never really thought it would come true. Mom and Dad were here for Christmas and it was a great visit. I have to tell you Dad is just not the same without you here. When you passed you took a piece of Dad with you. He is very blessed though that you come to visit him often to let him know you are ok and doing well. He then passes it on to the rest of us to try to help us have peace. Mom is doing very well also as you already know. She misses you terribly but also knows that you are learning what you need to learn to prepare for them to join you when it is their time to be taken into Heavenly Father's arms.

Sometimes I feel so guilty that I could not of helped you more in your journey of life. I just hope that I was not the cause of some of your inner demons you were fighting day to day. I know after your motorcycle accident that much of you pride was stripped of you. You could not work, you were in pain all the time, and you just felt like less of a man. Doug the whole time I knew you, you always worked and provided for your family. When you could'nt it took such a big affect on you. You just needed to know that you were not worthless. It gave you more time to spend with Dane because Heavenly Father knew he was going to take you. I remember the first time I met you.. Honestly I could not stand you (lol). But as I got to know you, your personality was awesome. You had the biggest heart. We then started a relationship and to be honest I don't even know how that happened (lol) I fell in love with you instantly. We then got engaged and hit some rocky points in our relationship. We separated a few times but always found a way to find each other again. In some ways I thought we were meant to be. Then we found out we were preganant with Dane, then came our marriage which would have been 9 years 10 days ago. The final time we separated and you moved on with your life with someone else I knew that meant to be feeling was over. We still had rough patches but always remained friends for our son. We always told each other if you ever need a friend call me! Which we did! I was so mad at you for so many years... Then I finally forgive you for leaving me then you pass away and the anger comes right back but for a different reason... When is the pain ever going to go away? Will you ever make it go away or help me deal with it better? Mom gave me the idea to write you like this and I already did it on paper but I also wanted to write on here to make sure it gets to you. So this is my final goodbye Doug. I will always think of you and LOVE you but I have got to move on with my life and be happy for my husband and children. They deserve it. I can't sit around feeling sorry for myself when I know there is nothing I can do to change the situation. May you Rest In Peace and continue your journey with Heavenly Father. Until I hopefully see you again... Take Care and enjoy life the way you should have here on earth. Your friend always Jessica xoxoxoxox

“ Well, The holidays are here.. And Me and my fiancee Krystyn actually have all of our shopping done... I just love this time of year.. I cant wait till christmas eve though and it is one more week away.. I want to stay in touch with you dougie because i feel you are my angel up there.. I think about our friendship all the time and how great your family is and was to me. I know you are up there working and i thank you soo much for thinking of me. I have such a wonderful family and I know you see our togetherness as we start our journey in marriage soon.. I have been blessed and I cant even imagine how my life would be if I still was the man I used to be.. Things have surely worked its way for me so far but i have many more things to accomplish to be where i want to be for my family.. But most of all thank you for being my guidance.. You know i just finished my first class and i averaged out with a high b or low a.. not sure yet cause it isnt calculated all the way.. But you know I never would of thought i would or could do this.. With your friendship I know you were there.. I want to wish your mother and father a very merry christmas this year from our family.. And i want them to know that they are such wonderful people and that may they be blessed this holiday season.. I want to wish you a very merry christmas too dougie and may you look down on us all with hope... god bless you my friend. love, Brian Baer

“ Well here it is almost a month since I wrote last. God only knows what Hell I have been through, but He says it wouldn't be easy but it would be worth it. So i go on Faith that He is watching our lives closely and giving us the love and support that we need at this time. I know it has been almost a year and I still cry every day for you. I miss our arguments and hearing your voice every day . My phone hardly ever rings any more. Your calls came in several times a day. Take care of the family there and we will continue with the family history here. but remember I may need your help every now and again!! I love and miss you so much and your Father has not been the same since you've been gone. He is so afraid that he will forget your voice. Dane misses you terribly and has bad days. The holidays are coming up and I did not think it would get diffulcult but I was wrong. I set up our tree and put Dane's ornament on there, the one you and I made for him for our first christmas.. I still remember us sitting down making it for him, that was a good memory. Mom and Dad are coming this year for Christmas and I hope it brings comfort to Dane as he will miss you! I hope you are with him on this day. I miss you so much Doug I hope you know this.....

“ Well Son tomorrow is your 29th Birthday and I miss you so much. I see how you are keeping us all busy with other things so we won't dwell so much on you. Marsha is getting married and Dad and I our signining papers on our new home that we will be sharing with grandma. We are all excited for these things but keep in mind that it will never diminish our thoughts of you on this day. Your Dad and I miss you so much and as the Holidays approach we are constantly thing and saying, were is Doug we did this lat year with Doug and Dane. Thursday is Thanksgiving and we know how much you loved to cook and eat. We will miss you so and tears will be plentiful. Dane is doing great but misses you terribly. Before we know it it will be a one year anniversary from the day that you left us. We know the Lord i s watching over all of us. And I feel that you are here in spirit and keep on comforting us. I know this sounds crazy but it doesn't seem like almost 1 year has passed yrt it seems like an eternity since We last saw you which for me happened to be at enterprise rental car in Ocala. I miss you so much. Tke care. Love Mom

“ Well it has been 8 months today and as each day passes it gets so much easier. I don't think your death will ever be easy but I must say I am not at peace with it. It's almost as if you have told me you are safe and not to worry anymore. I don't cry as often and I can talk about it better than I could before. Well until I see you again. Love, Jess “Dougie, Well I just was thinking about our time we shared together and how much you and your family were there for me.. We had so much fun being teenagers and just think of how easy it was back then.. The trials and stresses get much more demanding as we grow old. Its just we need to learn not how to get rid of them but how to improve them. I look up to you because of the kind heart you had.. You may have been a huge guy but your heart was just as big.. Llife is precious and every day I learn how to deal with the issues of this world and especially the economy. I am starting an electrical class at this community college at the end of the month and am so scared that I wont have the knowledge to even understand the teachings but i have this hard hard feeling that u are up there pushing me to do this for my future and to better my career and be established for my family. I know this cause in my prayers i am talking to you. You have been an amazing impact on my life that you didnt even know about. from the time i moved back to ohio I always thought of you from time to time. We did have a connection there for a short period of time but it became lost. I was looking for you for a long time but no leads. i occasionally 411 your name and your parents names to try to just give you a call and see how you have been.. I lost contact and it killed me.. All of a sudden after so many years i googled your name and found this site. So hard .. the last place i would ever of thought about finding you.. but soon after that i found jess then she gave me your mom and dads number. and it was that easy.. so i sometimes wonder why i couldnt of done this a while ago. Just contacted u before.. I dont know. And what comes first to my mind is reality.. It is what it is.. I love u doug like a lil brother. I want you to know you have been watching over me and I so thank you.. My life is so wonderful right now and i swear you are apart of it.. thanks doug.. god bless you, your friends and your wonderful family.

“ Doug where do I begin to start. I have so much I need to get off my chest and to let out. I am not at the angry stage of your death and I dont know how to handle it. Your death has changed who I am in so many ways. I have never had to feel this kind of pain and I dont know how to handle it. Even though we were not together I still loved you. I have lost one of my good friends. I have lost friends before but it has never felt like this. We have a past that no one can replace. We share a precious son that misses you so much and I have to witness this everyday and I don't know what to do to take his pain away. I know I can't take it away. I just feel that I could of helped you more but instead I ignored it. I feel guilty sometimes wondering what I could of done. I find myself taking my anger out on the wrong people and that is not right and I know this. I have asked for strength and guidance and I just feel I am not getting it. I just want you to know I am trying my best but Dane is going to need a long time to be repaired. Well it will be 7 months in a few days and I just pray one day the pain goes away:(Love, Jess

“ God saw you tired and a cure was not to be. So He put his arms around you and whispered "come to me" With tearful eyes I watched you and saw you pass away. Although I loved you dearly I couldn't make you stay. A golden heart stopped beating, hardworking hands at rest; God broke my heart to prove to me, He only takes the best.....Put this on your status if there is someone in heaven you miss each day... Love you and Miss you everyday!

“ Well I am writing you five days earlier because on Dane's 8th birthday it marks 6 months of you being gone. I can't believe it has already been 6 months. The pain has subsided a little but I catch myself thinking of you everyday. I sometimes ask myself is it normal to miss you so much the way I do. I miss you more for Dane than I do myself because I know where you are at you are in a better place, but how do I explain that to Dane. He just wants his daddy back. As I write this the pain in my heart resurfaces and tears roll down my face. I think of the future and all the things you are going to miss in Dane's life and it kills me. I can't help but think of these things because I don't want Dane to ever grow up and feel you are not with him on his special achievements in life. Like his graduation from high school, going to college, playing sports, getting married, and having our grandchildren. He is so handsome he is bound to give us grandbabies lol.... I know he has father figures in his life but it is not the same as you! I miss you everyday Doug. I love you>3

“ Well it has been just five months and as I sit here and type this the tears roll down my face as if was yesterday. I miss you so much!!! There are no words that can explain the hole in my heart. I feel like I have loss a huge part of my life and I know many years have been taken off my life. I love you so much and I miss your wonderful smile and your bear hugs. I can close my eyes and see you standing there waiting quietly for me. I know you are working very hard in the afterlife and preparing and praying for your family to come home so that we can all be together. Your earthly Father has had a lot of communication from Heavenly Father in the first couple of months but I haven't heard anything recently. I want you to know that we love and miss you and know that when it is our time how we will all rejoice together in the Heavens. Continue doing the work there and Dad and I will continue doing all we can to here to get the family together. Love You. Love Mom

“ Doug man.. doug.. Never thought this would be you i am reading about.. I have been searching for you for sometime on here to see how you and your family have been and no answers.. No douglas healey on myspace nor on facebook.. i forgot how to spell the last name the right way and thought maybe that was it. I have often called 411 to try to find you.. I couldnt even grasp to find your dads number nor mothers on 411.. you guys have moved so many times i should of known.. lol.. And now i find you here.. I am devistated.. I may have been so many miles away from you up here in ohio but you as a best friend haver always been in my heart.. You were always sooo positive and just the man.. Big as an ox and calm as teddy bear.. You and I had some great times in a time of my life where i was young and lost and your family was so there for me just like my own.. You were blessed so much to have parents that you had.. They are solid people with i would have to say the biggest hearts ever.. Doug our time together was special and you sure were a great friend.. Being older i actually looked up to you and you probably never knew it. I have so much to say cause thats what you leave behind.. so much... so much. I would like to send my condolence to your mom and dad.. if you guys need a voice or someone to talk to . please call me anytime.. I love you guys so much you wouldnt even know how much you were there for me.. There is a plan for life and this was dougies plan believe it or not. This is hard for me cause i never got a chance to find you doug.. You are in heaven now looking down on me and i know you are protecting me cause thats the kind of person you are.. “ Well another month has gone by and I must say it still has not gotten any easier. Dane and I now have you here at the house and it has brought much comfort to us to help get through this tough time. I still miss you like crazy. I miss our useless talks (lol) when either of us were bored, I miss our arguments, and our laughs. I miss not having you here for when I need someone to talk too. After all we have been through you always told me I could call you and talk to you about anything. I do find myself talking to you anyways when I need a friend. I will always care and love you Doug and continue to have a piece of you through our son. Well that's all until next month when I have to right you again. I love you, Jess

“ It has been 3 months today and I still miss you so much. It is still like it's all a bad dream. Dane has been with me for 2 months now and is doing well. He misses you a lot and we sit and talk about you at night. I know you are in a better place but I just wish you were here. I know here on earth you were in pain and now I know you are not in anymore pain. Dad has told us that you are doing well with Heavenly Father and learning what you need to learn. I know you are not in anymore pain anymore and that helps me through this. I look at our son and all I see is you. It kills me that you are going to miss some of the most important times in his life but I know you will be with him in spirit. I love you Doug and miss you so much and always will. Love, Jess

April and I are continuing to grow closer together and make the right choices for Dane. I have been talking to your parents more and hope to remain close to them as time goes on. The family has grown closer and I know you have something to do with it. You and I have talked many times about if this were to ever happen that you would not want everyone to fight. I am doing so many special things for Dane so he always remembers you,. His life is never going to be the same without you. He worshiped you so much and I know you loved that. He wanted to be like you so much. Now I wonder why we did not call him George Douglas Healey (the third)lol. I am going to try my hardest to make sure he is sealed to you for all time and eternity. Oh Doug he loves and misses you so much. Please always stay with him and let him know you are there with him. Doug you were truly an important person in my life. May you rest in peace my friend. “ Doug the past 7 years have been a challenge for us, but we managed to get through them. You would ALWAYS say "I got this. We will be ok. Just trust me honey." Even though i had my doubts I took your advice and trusted you. Some how we ALWAYS got through it. We had so really great times together. The time we went camping and you were showing Dane how to build a camp fire. You were SOOOO excited and so was he. It's times like that that I will miss. I ALWAYS promised you that I will look after Dane and take care of him as if he were my own. I will keep that promiss to you. I do wish that you were here with use, but the Lord needs you there. I use to tell you that if I could take your pain away for you I would. Well now you are NO longer in any more pain. I will miss you Always and You will ALWAYS be the Love of my life. I love you honey. Watch over your family and we will see you again some day. Love always and 4ever, ME

“ My Darling Son, Oh how I miss you!! I miss your smile, and your hugs and hearing your voice on the other end of the phone. Today has been the worst day since The day you actually left us. I can't seem to control my emotions at all today. My eyes are always filled with tears. I wished I could have been there to help you but Heavenly Father needed you there more so then I needed you here. I know you were only ours sent from Heavenly Father to raise and enjoy for a season and then you like everyone else would return to your eternal home. I always thought that your Father and I would go long before you but I can actually hear you say that you could never live here on this earth with out your parents. We always joked about that. I know that you are in good hands and that you are learning much to be able to touch lives there in Heaven. Until we meet again at our Heavenly Fathers home, RIP, I love you Love Mom Love mom

“ Doug, My tears are for not you but the time we will never share. My laughter and smiles or for the times we did share and the light you brought to us... I know your better now, and I know it will all be ok... You always joked even when situations were not funny but that is what ended up making us all laugh... I wish i could have changed some things, and others where way better left behind... The last time we talked you were helping Dane do a report about veterans and in typical Doug style you called me because you wanted him to mention me.. Sometimes we don't thank people enough for the small things I didn't thank you that day but I am not going let it go thanks for making me feel good like there is a purpose you always had that about you... Brother I'm beside myself knowing your not there...we assume to much and take life to much for granted... I love you always... I think how much you asked me what it was like to fly well I ask you what is it like, we only get to dabble in a small portion of it... Talk to me brother tell me I miss you be proud...and help us be us we need it... You have united the whole family and we all miss you.... So goodnight my friend I will see you on the flip side.

“ There is much to be thankful for as we remember Dougie and the way he shared his life with us and those around him. Each of us gives gifts of memories to those we share our life with. Doug's gift to us was his love, his caring, and his fun loving antics. As a stylish teenager visiting us, we were continually reminding him that pants were to be worn around the waist not half way down your butt. And, of course, according to Dougie, tennis shoes could only be worn without the shoelaces tied. Dougie enjoyed clowning around with his Aunt's Sherryl and Cathy. These are only a few sample memory gifts that no one can take away. Although Doug has gone, his memory lives on in our hearts.

“ 28 years of age is way to soon to lose someone like you, and the problem with this is the fact that your son will never get the chance to experience your greatness as a man, as your partners lover or most of all as a great father. There were times we have spent together way back in school that I will never forget and you my friend are someone who has left an impression on me in which I will never forget in anyway. People say its better to have loved and lost than to never have loved at all, everytime I hear this phrase it kills me a little bit inside because obviously whoever made this statement first never understood the meaning of loss and just how much it hurts to lose someone as close to you as you were to me. Everytime I think of times we spent together it makes me smile in the times that once were, the thing im told will never change in my life and in life is change, but I just wish things could be how they once were before I had to leave Florida. I wouldnt change not one moment that I spent with you. I am just very happy that even though I got taken away from everything I once knew in Florida, we still found away to stay in touch after a little bit of time had passed. The only thing I wish I could of done now is gotten the chance to see you in person again and got to talk with you more often than we did, however no one on earth could have known what happened and have told us to prevent it in anyway. The one thing it shows me is that you can never take friends for always being there and to cherish every opportunity you get to spend with that person even if it is only talking on the phone. The thing about people passing away in this world is this, to most people they just look at it as another person, but for those of us who knew you will forever and always have you in our minds and in our hearts no matter what happens. I may not be able to speak for everyone else who knows you, however, as for me I feel like such a blessed person for getting the chance to get to know you as well and for as long as I did. Until the day I am gone from this earth and we get to meet again you can amd will live on through me and everyone else who knew you and with that in mind you will never be forgotten my friend. I love you for the friend you were, the friend you are, and the friend that you will always be to me, I love you man! -Jesse Benner-

Messing with auntie Cheryl and getting messed up with her was always fun... The riding lawn mower oh how could we forget... Man the times were good... Even when things were bad you always tried to make them fun... You rarely frowned except for the occasional you couldn't have a soda when we were kids... “ DOUG I WILL MISS U SO MUCH. U WERE ONE OF MY BEST FRIENDS. EVEN THOUGH WE HAD OUR PROBLEMS IN THE PAST THAT NEVER STOPPED MY LOVE FOR YOU. I KNOW YOU WILL BE WATCHING OVER US AND WATCHING OVER OUR PRECIOUS SON. MAY YOU REST IN PEACE AND KNOW THAT YOUR FAMILY LOVE YOU VERY MUCH AND ONE DAY WE WILL ALL SEE YOU AGAIN. I LOVE YOU AND WILL MISS YOU!
