“Loved Helen. A sharp mind to the end. At Thanksgiving I asked her memories of WWII. She said: "I was 18 and there was no one to date. My friends and I volunteered at the USO where we danced with servicemen and served coffee and doughnuts, and there was some guys who caught my eye, But then we learned there was a no-dating policy. I complained to my mother how unfair that was, but she has no sympathy at all." RIP Helen. I will miss you.

“I cherish the memory of visiting her in her Ocala home about 2 years ago. She was lively and alert.
