

James Todd

December 31, 1969 - December 27, 2013

Obituary of James Todd Jim Todd was the owner of Todd Grinding Co. a family business that his father started in 1940. Jim took over the business in 1965 and continued to run the company up until his death. Jim enjoyed his walking horses and dogs. He currently had five horses which he enjoyed exhibiting at local horse shows and several dogs which he considered to be a part of his family. Jim fought a long and hard battle against several life threatening diseases. He did so with such strength and such dignity that several of his doctors considered him a success even though he eventually was not able to continue the battle for life. Jim is survived by a family that loves him dearly and will always miss him. A memorial is being planned and will be held in Lapeer Michigan at a later time.

“ One of my favorite memories of Jim was when he proposed to me. He got down on one knee and told me that I was the love of his life and he wanted to make me his wife. I immediately said yes and we were married two months later. Jim, I wouldn't have changed a thing. I love you now as I have always loved you and I miss you everyday. Until we met again... Elisabeth

“ Though I only met Jim in recent years, I was struck by descriptions by those closest to him regarding his incredibly profound spirit of generosity and dedicated work ethic throughout his life. Whenever someone was in need, he was there. My deepest sympathies to Jan, Liz, and all family and friends during this difficult time.

“ My sincere condolences to Jim's entire family. I will never forget the great times we had. Jim was also a very competitive person, whether it was a horse show, an auction sale or a supposedly friendly game of monopoly. Oh how he laughed when he was the winner. I will never forget the many horse shows we competed against each other fiercely and still would laugh. The best was the 50 and over classes when Rick & Jim brought lots of excitement and a lot of hoots and hollers. He loved to tease me, and I him. Jim was a huge sports fan. Jim you were ever so generous and a valued friend. I will never forget you "MY FRIEND" Love, Rick & T
