“ So I'm searching online for a thrift store that's near my house called "Jamie's Place". Instead of finding what I was looking for...up popped something familiar...Jamie Luttrell obituary. Wow...of all the things on the internet I couldn't believe this was what came up . It even happens to be Mother's Day today. So, as I look at the info about Jamie, I noticed that Jamie's birthday is March 10th. I didn't really know that, even though I will never forget Dec. 8th. On March 10th 2012 we were in a roll over accident and knew we were lucky to survive. We knew that night and still believe that someone was watching over us. So now today when I stumble across this site and see that very day was Jamie's Birthday it warms my heart. Maybe I didn't "stumble across" anything :) Happy Mother's Day Jamie!

“ *Jamie girl, you were like the daughter I never had, so sweet turned never had a bad feeling for no one no matter the battle, you were the peace keeper, the loving one, the caring one with the big heart to fill a room and also the smile to brighten up anyones day. “ Jamie is someone who will be missed by all. She is someone I trusted to care for my children. In her teen years Jamie babysat both Isaac & John. Our families also took Daytona Beach Vacations together, where Jamie & Jesse both spent much time with the boys. Isaac & John will always remember times at the beach & pool. We also remember the day Jamie Graduated from High School! We were so proud of her. Robert fondly remembers Jamies persistence on school attendance, even as a young child. We will also never forget the day L.J. was born. Jamie, You were such a loving mother. We love you. Robert, Amy, Isaac, & John.

“ Aunt Gerri, Jessie, James and LJ, Remember that Jamie is in a better place now no more suffering and pain. She is looking after all of us now and waiting until we meet again. She will be missed so much. But I'm sure that god has a bigger plan for her now. Jamie is the kindest person and will be in our harts forever. LJ-Your mommy loved you more then anything in this world. She is a wonderful person. She has left you some many little gifts. Be proud of your mom she put up a good fight to be here. But sometimes there is bigger work to be done. Remember your mommy is waiting until the day she will see you again.

“ To Jamie, I never told you how much I appreciated you and how much you meant to me and I regret that everyday. You were and still are my only friend and just about the only person I trusted you, you knew everything about me and you were always there for me. I loved getting to take you and LJ out everyday to run errands and go to lunch and dinner and just hang out and talk. I felt comfortable with you and felt like I could talk to you about anything. You were always so caring for everyone. I feel so bad that I never got to tell you all of this, but I really hope that you know how much you mean to me. I love you!! I will always be here for LJ and the rest of your family I promise. I will miss you so much and I can't wait to see you again. There's so much more I want to tell you, but I will wait until I see you.

“ I never took the time to get to know her and i regret it deeply. The only times i saw her was in family get togethers and she was always making sure her son was ok and not getting in any trouble. She was always were her dad was and never said much. I'm sorry for everything and just know that this has made me realize that life goes in a blink of eyes, and you don't know whats there till sometimes is too late like right now. I knew her but i didn't know her and it herts that i never took the time to see what she was all about and i wish i did. GOD BLESS YOU. Thank you for making me feel the way i do, i needed it and you gave it to me.

“ Jamie was my sister as well as one of my bestfriends. She was the mother to all of us that lived in our house. She cooked, cleaned, watched her super active son (LJ), and took care of our dog (Blue) that is much like LJ. She was there for anybody that had a problem and never talked down on anyone; Jamie was really one of a kind. I remember coming home over the summer that had just past and i was balling my eyes out, Jamie hugged me really tight and just because i was crying she cried with me. I told her everything and now i feel really empty. It hurts so bad to lose someone that was that close with you. She was like superwomen! I love her deeply and I will never forget. =[

“ Jamie was a soldier and no matter the obstacles that life has thrown at her she was able to overcome any and all things with respect and with a massive amount of dignity. I still find it hard to imagine my life without her. growing up we always used to do things together. and to think that lj is going to be without his mom makes things a million times harder for me. i love you so much and you will forever live in my heart. uncle james,aunt gerri and jessie know that no matter what happens i know you guys will be strong and raise lj to the best of your ability. i love you all and we have a long road ahead of us. LJ please know that you mom was an amazing person and that her heart ws made of gold. you will learn in time that her strength is in you and that is why your personality is so strong. i love you lil' man and never forget. I love you all from the bottom of my heart.
