“ Everyone has there time to leave, your time was cut short. Having you as neighbors was a wonderful experience you always found a way to makes us laugh with all your jokes. Each and everyone one of our family member had a special saying with you. How can we forget when you could not turn on the lawn mower and Noel would help you, How you and Joel could share that special love and affection with your cars. Not only were you our neighbor but you were part of our family we shared unforgettable time out to dinner and who could forget your saying Pan Para empujar". However, to top it off the one thing that will forever stay with me on my mind is how you would get upset when I would be Graces Compinche. J.M you became like a grandfather to us. We will forever be missing you. We Love You. Family Mendez April 1,2007

“ We will miss our dinner conversation at Glady's, your stories of the good old days in Miami. We will always remember stories about you being a bus driver, a taxi cab driver, a confidant for a billionaire from South-America. Although you were far from being a saint, you were always generous to your family and friends. We are certain your love for your family had no limit. We are touched by your wit, humor, and your life experience with the good and bad. We realize that you had certain point of views, which you could not change, but we are sure that did not make you any less compassionate towards your fellow-men. We will miss you at Thanksgiving, birthdays and Christmas. We are pretty sure there is cable in heaven, so you won't miss "Monk" re-runs. Vaya Con Dios
