“ Dear Friends and Beloved Family, 35 years ago I wrote a similar letter to this, never thinking I would have to do it again. My heart aches with the pain of loss and swells with pride from all the wonderful things said and written to me about Keri. The daughter I gave birth to and raised I knew so well. The young woman you all told me about was familiar and yet new to me. Along with some of you I was forced to say goodbye to my best friend and find myself asking WHY ME not WHY HER, just why did you take her away from me. Haven't gotten an answer yet but I expect to one day, the day we see each other again. I am angry, sad, mad, and lost. Lost because I am not in control, can't run things this time. I want to make the hurt go away from my sons Ken and Rich, want to protect all my grandchildren especially Corbin and Aidan whom will never grow to know their mom and to Brad, a young man that entered our lives and family almost 20 years ago I want only the best that love and happiness can bring him. These things I want and have asked god to help me achieve them. Friends, as time goes on keep Keri in your thoughts and remember her for all the wonderful reasons you wrote about. To my Children and Grandchildren, never let a moment go by without letting each other know how much they are loved. Thank you to each and every one that touched our lives through the years and most recently. I pray this will be the last letter I write in my lifetime. Maureen (Mom/Grandma)

“ Thank you Keri Ann, for the Gift of Life! You will always be my Angel, you gave so much for so many. Life isn't the same with out you. I miss your daily posts on face book, and I am having a hard time knowing there are no more posts. I take comfort in knowing that we will be together again, until then rest easy, and just know this, You will always be Loved! God Bless YOU and YOURS FOREVER. I Love you, xxxxxx0000000

“ Kerbear, I love you & miss you dearly I can not believe you're gone. My heart hurts for you & wish that I could see you & hug you once again. You have been my best friend & sister for 30yrs... you never judged me for my mistakes I could call you at anytime & you were there for me. My memories of sleepovers, dances, parties & even bowling will never be forgotten. As adults we didn't see each other as often, but we never skipped a beat! YOU WERE AN AMAZING FRIEND, A POSITIVE INFLUENCE IN MY LIFE & I WILL MISS YOU EVERY DAY OF MY LIFE! Til we meet again in heaven <3 R.I.P. 1436

“ Almighty Father, eternal God, hear our prayers for Keri Ann whom You have called from this life to Yourself. Grant her light, happiness, and peace. Let her pass in safety through the gates of death, and live forever with all Your saints in the light You promised to Abraham and to all his descendants in faith. Guard her from all harm and on that great day of resurrection and reward raise her up with all Your saints. Pardon her sins and give her eternal life in Your kingdom. I ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen. Donald J. Storr & Family

“ RIP Keri we all loved you from near and far. I couldnt but into words of how much you will be missed and I remember you and I reading poems when Ed passed so here is one for you: I wrote this poem for my sister in law that passed away and my nephew who is growing up so fast. Guardian Angel I close my eyes I shut them tight, In hopes that when I open them you'll be here to tell me that everything's OK to tell me that sisters stay together forever no matter what. I know you're here because every time I look into that little boys eyes I can see a part of you I know he's going to be an amazing child because he has so many people that love him most importantly he has you. He will have you as his mom to protect him from heaven, to watch him grow up, to catch him when he falls and to wipe his tears away. He may not know it but you'll always be there because you're his guardian angel. Sister In Law Guardian Angel, Mourning Poem

“ My deepest sympathy to the Keri's family and friends. My prayers and thoughts are with you. Even though I never had the opportunity to meet Keri personally and only converse with her via text, I feel like I have known her a long time from the many conversations Brad and I have had while working together. The love and happiness between the two of you was visible for all see. Keri, I will miss hearing the many weekend stories and teasing Brad about you; may you R.I.P.

“ Even though I never met Keri, Just seeing all the love that everyone is expressing for her lets me know she was such a blessing to be around. I pray for everyone in this time of grief and I know in my heart she is in a better place right now. I pray and hope her boys know that they have so many wonderful people around that is going to be there for them always.

“ To Keri's family, Brad, and friends, We are still in shock, as you are. Prayers and thoughts are with you and may God Bless you and wishing to ease the pain a little. We met Keri during the holidays when Brad came to visit. We fell in love with her and welcome her into our family with open arms. Oh how we wish we could have had many more years to know her. Keri and Brad made a beautiful couple. Rest in peace Keri, as we still love you. Our hearts are with her mother, brothers and the two boys.

“ I never met Keri personally. I know about her because she loved my son and my son loved her. I was able to converse back and forth with her via FaceBook and text messages a few times. My son told me about a wonderful young lady that was the woman he had been hoping to find for years. I know that she had a sense of humor. From the numerous posts I have read I know that she had a lot of friends and people that think highly of her. But the most important thing is that I know that she and Brad loved each other with all of their being and that they were eagerly looking forward to spending many years with each other. What more could a future Father-in-Law ask for? Nothing! Keri, I love you because you loved my son. We miss not having the opportunity to welcome you into our family. RIP sweetheart!

“ Keri, I wish this was a dream and would wake up and say...wow. I wish I could have told you to be careful...we made new years resolutions for 2013 to be the year. We were supposed to be celebrating your engagement and picking out colors for your wedding.... I'll never forget the night you text me and showed me your ring. You were so happy. I hope you are looking down on us smiling...I'm sure your dad was waiting for you with open arms. I'm going to miss you at our patio parties..and pool parties. Please be one of those waiting for me one day with open arms....I'll be looking for you. Time may ease this pain but never your memory.

“ As i sit here Almost 24hrs later wondering why u were taken soooo soon n so short of life its self. Nothing in life has bothered me or has hurt me more then losing u. Even though we had our fights, or dislikes n our brother sister differences since we were kids you were always dear n close in my heart. I have been sitting and looking at the door waiting for you to walk through n say hey rich n give me my hug but then i realize that will never happen again. I want to cry, scream n yell, punch n kick everything i see right now but nothing i can do say or want can bring u back. I will always hate n remeber the date 03-17-13 ST.Patrick's Day cause that is when i lost MY other part of MOM n DAD. I LOVE YOU ALWAYS N FOREVER

“ Many nights were spent chatting together as teacher to mom,- as those nights continued throughout the year... our roles changed to chatting as friends. We lived many a moment together as single moms, and friends being able to vent... I will forever cherish each of those conversations as we "shared" the life of Corbin. Keri's positive outlook on life will be remembered forever within who I am as a mom, teacher, and most of all friend.

“ Keri- I was devastated to hear this happened. I think about you and your boys everyday. We go back a long ways and I will cherish the times we shared together as teens, we had alot of good times, always getting into some sort of trouble. As adults we drifted apart, I regret that deeply. I believe you are now reunited with your father, too early indeed. Just make sure you watch over your sons till eternity!
