“ Dad, You have been a fantastic father n law. You raised some fine children, and in time it trickled down the line! Your children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren had the fr greatest respect for you! You showd great patience even for the youngest of all. They loved your stories and so did we. You praised us for jobs well done. You were proud! I will always remember the praise you gave me and the people you told of a job well done, when I put together my parents 50th anniversay and Kims' and my 25th anniversary celebration! I won't forget how you told people it was my doings. I always looked forward to your visits to N.C. and so did the boys, including Ryan. You will be missed dearly but what is comfoting to know, you and my father are once again together talking about anything and everything! Continue to watch over us dad as you have always done. Love and miss you! Your daughter n law Leann

“ The loss of this wonderful man will be felt for many years to come. Family gatherings were exciting and fun as Leo always had a story to tell. He was so very proud of his family which is evident in the children he and Betty raised. Our thoughts and prayers are will all of you through this difficult time. Hold tight in your heart your precious memories for they will last forever.

“ I have known Leo from the early days at Eastern going back to the 60's. We worked on the same crew over the years and enjoyed our love of aviation. For years we would plan on getting a van and filling it up with other Eastern workers and going to various airshows around the state of Florida. For some of the out of state shows, we used our passes at EAL to travel to these events. Leo and I e-mailed each other all the time to keep in touch. My family and his family spent some time on vacations in Georgia including climbing Stone Mountain. The Flanagan Family will truly miss my friend Leo.

“ Dad, You're work here is complete. You have defended a country, found a perfect mate, raised children who love and respect you and Mom, seen your self through extensive careers, traveled the world and seen things most people only dream of and some all people fear. You have held your head high and survived personal trauma that would buckle lesser men, all the time you showed us how to do this and display such humility and selflessness that it will take us an equal lifetime to hope to come even close to achieving. You will forever be a model to us all. And for the rest of my days here, everyone I meet will hear your story and know that you are my Dad and I love you as you loved us all. I miss your voice already, but will continue to hear your wisdom always. Thank you.

“ Still finding it hard to believe you're not here in person with us. You were an inspiration to us all and a mold of what we wanted to be like. It will be extremely difficult not getting a chance to hear just one more story. You will be missed greatly. Love you Pop.
