“ It's December and Christmas time again Grandpa. I have always loved Christmas. I remember when you would come to Michigan to celebrate with us. I still love Christmas time but I also dread it now as well. I just miss you so much! I wish you were here to celebrate with us now. I wish you could see my little Giovannina walking and laughing and playing. I know you see her from heaven but its just not the same. You would have just adored her. She is just the best! And she looks just like me lol. I love you Grandpa. Please help us get through another holiday without you.

“ Happy Birthday Dad. I read that those who die relearn, or remember, the secrets of Life that they forgot at birth. We all are in the process of remembering what we forgot at birth. With today being your birthday, I though this was interesting. Missing you are always. Love Cheryl “ Saw a movie last night called "When Tommorrow Comes". In this movie the father and mother were not able to spend their final days together, because of money issues. They had to stay with different children, in different states. Just wanted to share how proud I am of both my parents. So happy that you both shared so much Love in your years together. How joyous it will be when we all meet again. Love you Daddy and miss you everyday.

“ Grandpa I am so glad we got to spend last summer together and even happier that you were there to see me marry my best friend. I got to spend a week with you on the cruise and I even got to talk to you last week. I love you so much and life won't be the same without you. I have the most amazing 30 years worth of memories that I will cherish until we meet again someday. I am comforted with the thought you are watching over us all.

“ Grandpa, You are one of the best men I have ever known and I'm honored to be able to call you my Grandfather. You and Grandma taught us what love really meant, and we are all better people for having you in our lives. I will never forget our times together growing up watching movies, even though you hated them. You always sat through them for me and it is one of my fondest memories of you. I will see you again someday in Heaven, however, until then I will think of your smile and laugh and remember all that you taught me. I will always love you, Carrienne.

“ I couldn't have asked for a better Father-In-Law. On my wedding day to his daughter, Loren put his arm around me and said "I'm going to call you SON". Then he chuckled. Loren was only nine months older than me. How comfortable he made me feel then and every day since. I will surely miss him.

“ Though my father and I shared the same name, we have not always shared the same views. These last five years my father and I have become closer than I would ever think possible. We shared talks and laughter and I got the chance to know him as a man not just a father. The love and respect I have for him will last forever.

“ Dad has always been the strong silent type, but the strenght he showed in his last years is awe inspiring. I am so proud to be his daughter. What a special gift he gave his family. Especially, these last two months, to make the effort to go on one last family cruise. What special memories we have of his love and courage. I will miss him greatly.
