“ I only had the pleasure of meeting this beautiful soul in person once, but as they say, "Once is Enough" to realize what a special lady she was. Seemed to have a warm, but mischievous smile, and I regret that we did not have more time to spend with her and get to know that mischievous side while playing games. The reflection of the love that emanated from her towards her family was heart warming. I pray that each day will be a bit easier on her family, although missing her, knowing that she is in a better place without suffering. Rest In Peace, Gram.
