“ My condolences for the loss of your dear Marie. In this time of grief, the Bible assures us: 'Almighty God is near to those that are broken at heart; and those who are crushed in spirit he saves.' (Psalm 34:18) Yes, more than anything else, your relationship with God can truly help in coping during this time of grief. God's Kingdom assures us that there will come a time when the enemy death will be no more, sorrows, pain and tears. Revelation 21:3,4♥♥ May the peace of God be with your family.

“ To the family of Ms. Dare, please accept my deepest condolences in your loss of Marie. I was amazed reading her obituary, that she was 102! She must have been an incredible lady. I noticed to that she loved horses, so do I, so I know she was a cool lady. I wanted to share a comforting thought that has helped me in the loss of my father. It's from the Bible in Revelation 21:4, where it says that , "sorrow, pain and death will be no more." We know that those things do not exist in heaven, so the scripture is referring to conditions right here on earth. Jesus once said that, "the meek would inherit the earth." So soon, when Gods Kingdom,; his will , is done on earth, these things will be fulfilled. On a restored paradise earth, we will see the marvelous resurrection of our loved ones (John 5:28-29, Acts 24:25), with no one ever having to die again! My favorite scripture about this is Job 14:14-15. I know these verses will comfort you. I just want we'd to share. Take care.
