“ *My dear mother,
The first person I always want to share any type of news with is you, and since you've been gone I have reached for the phone many times to call you realizing those days are over, at least for now. I believe we will be together again mom and I cannot wait. I am so jealous that you are with all our past neighbors, friends and loved ones but I know you are having the time of your life catching up with everyone and for now, my memories will have to suffice.
I miss you terribly but most of all I miss your ability to make me laugh just when I need to, with your wonderful sense of timing and humor.
I love you mom beyond time and words and I had the best time being your daughter and your friend. What a joy and ride it has been.
Godspeed mom, Jodeen*

“ As a kid, I thought Mom was too strict and/or firm, giving me rules to live by, and chores to do before I could go out to play. When in fact Mom was teaching me and preparing me for the world of unfairness. She taught me to be independent, knowledgeable, strong, passionate and to go after what I want in life. In adulthood, Mom was always there for me with tidbits of knowledge, advice and yes, she even had a comment or two, a statement that would having me laughing out loud. There were many years we lived miles apart, but we still made time to call each other and catch-up!! And every time before we hung-up the phone, Mom would give me one more piece of advice or say a simple comment that was just between us...I will miss those simple statements and tidbits of advice, but I will remember and yes, even cherish the ones you told me through-out my whole life Mom.
Until we meet again Mom... God Bless You!!!
Love you always, Michelle
