“ Ode to Pop (Max Boeseman 1926-2008) Pop, now that youre gone you will be missed Youre with the Lord I know you gave Him that kiss. You will not be forgotten we all loved you so much All of our lives you truly touched We will miss the stories of old From the days of your youth to the Battle of the bulge, With each retelling, we became closer to you You led a rich life, what more could you do? Pop, you were a great father you treated us well We new that you loved us yes we all could tell From staying up late for Kathy youd wait To picking me up from school when I would know my fate, You were patient with Mike when went through his spell You stuck close to Danny when he went through hell To our mother you stayed true Sixty years of marriage what else is there to prove? We turned out good, men and women of faith This ensures one day we will see Gods face. Pop, youre in heaven running the streets of gold Checking out the sights, the sights untold, But more than anything you are walking with the Lord Youre singing with angels something I know you adore. So Pop, I just want you to know, thanks for the memories In our hearts and minds they will always be stored.

“ Dad... You showed me what unconditional love and dedication meant by how you loved us. You were a strong and proud man. I watched you get sick with grace and a sense of humor. I miss you so much, but I have the hope that, someday, we will be standing together before Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, perfect and singing his praises! Amen I Love You Dad!

“Daddy, I can only thank you for being my father and giving me what I would need to face life. I thank you for giving me a firm belief that marriage was forever and thanks for showing me, by example, how it is done. Thank you for teaching me to be a responsible child, a loving mother and a loving wife. Thank you for the respect you always showed me, by your words and your actions. You have truly left your mark of what true family love is. It will live on thru me and your three God loving son's. Thanks for the memories and most of all for being my daddy.

“We will miss you Daddy! After Mike and I got divorced, you and Mom still had love for me and your grandchildren. We have all found our lives a bit richer just knowing you were a great part in it! I'll miss your laugh and your mystery spaghetti. I know you are with Dutches. What a cool dog. Love you Daddy so much. Say hi to my Mom and Dad! Colleen
