

Nyima Lee Ward

January 2, 1995 - May 29, 2024

Nyima Lee Ward of Ocala, Florida blew into this world on January 2, 1997 destined to live life his own way. He left it May 29, 2024 having lived fiercely, loved deeply and made memories with the kind of fervor that only a young man who never met a stranger could do.

Nyima was born in New York City. In Tibetan, Nyima means “the Sun.” There is no doubt that when he was born, he was the sun to parent’s Aaron Ward and Trish Goff’s whole system. He remained there throughout his life.

With family spread all over the world – New York to New Zealand, London to Florida – Nyima didn’t get to see everyone every day. He got to see everyone for long, meaningful periods. And that suited him just fine. It was deep, present connections he craved.

He was a boy of the world, traveling extensively, who grew into a man of the earth, falling in love with farming and animals and chasing his dreams from California to Florida.

It wouldn’t have been unheard of to find Nyima with a stray animal he’d saved on the side of the road or calling his mom to ask about animal care tips.

He loved the water, always choosing boots and jeans for a day on the boat, and opted outside whenever he had the chance.

The only thing in life that matched his height was his love of friends and family, never missing an opportunity to tell his people he loved them or ensuring he had stayed in touch with his people.

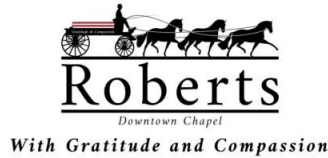

Memories of Nyima will carry forward in the hearts of his Dad Aaron Ward, Mom Trish Goff and David Bonnouvrier, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

In lieu of flowers, the family has asked for donations to be made in Nyima's memory to The Florida Wildlife Corridor Foundation. floridawildlifecorridor.org

Nyima, life was short for you. You were a breath of fresh air to my soul when I first met you. Your kindness, bright smile and energy was sunlight to all who met you.

Your bright sunlight grabbed my heart the moment I met you. Your light will continue to shine in all the hearts of those that you have given the pleasure of great memories to treasure your presence.

You had a wholesome spirit; full of life with a love for nature and a quest for life's adventures. You had a free spirit and enjoyed life to the fullest.

Life doesn't seem fair that you're gone now. But, I pray you are resting in God's eternal peace.

Your life on this earth has left a great impact of great memories upon your friends and family. And, you will be missed greatly. I pray for God's comfort and peace upon your friends and family as they grieve the great loss of your kind soul and spirit.

Rest in peace, we all love you and miss you.

“ I ran into Nemo in Queens on day and we started talking for a few minutes. A week later it was like we were best friends. He welcomed me into his life with open arms. There's are very few people in this world with the openness to love others and care, instead of ignore. When he moved to CA, I helped him pack up and he gave me a bunch of his stuff. Its a lot more than that now. He was a beautiful soul and I look forward to seeing my homie again 🙏
Love you my dude

Such sad news of Nyima dying so young. We knew him from PS234 elementary school in TriBeCa. I will always remember him as the being the kind and sweet child who took it upon himself at a birthday party to teach my son to ice skate at Chelsea Piers. Pam, Alec's Mom.
