

Pauline Williams

December 31, 1969 - July 25, 2020

Pauline Adina Williams, born in Georgetown, Guyana, passed away July 25, 2020 in Ocala, Florida. Pauline was preceded in death by her husband Aubrey Williams and son Delano Williams. Pauline loved attending Bible Studies every Tuesday at Silver Springs Presbyterian Church. Pauline lived to travel, her favorite places were England and her home country of Guyana. This year (2020), Pauline often mentioned that she will be visiting Guyana for "the last time", but due to the Covid pandemic, she was unable to go. Pauline also enjoyed a casino excursion every now and again. Technology became a hobby of hers as was evidenced when Tracey (her daughter) gave her an Amazon (Alexa) device. She did not want it but after learning what the device is capable of she requested that Tracey give the device back to her. Pauline, the retired nurse midwife, also known as "Pearl" is survived by her sons Storme Starr and Jerome Williams, daughter Tracey Williams-Payne, 11 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.
