“ Bob & Marge were a loving example to all the kids in the neighborhood. I knew them since 1954. I worked for A Cycle at 16 in 1959. He was like a father figure to me and others. I learned a lot about life and work ethics from him. If you ever met him you would not forget him. His loving wife was always by his side. He once told me how he saw Margie when she as about 14. He waited for her to grow up and then asked for her hand. His life was a true story of love and family. He said he never would correct his son in anger. Lindy would just have to wait till Bob and Margie figured out thw next step. He said the waiting would be harder on Lindy, Ha . No matter what the problem, he was always there to listen. I have always missed him.
