“ My wife Vanna and I are blessed to have known Ron and to have worked with him in the past. There are few people in this world that you meet and they adopt you as family and Ron & Deb are those people. As we age through life we tend to lose contact with our family friends, Ron is a family friend I will always regret not staying in contact with. Deb and family there are no words I can utter that will ease the pain of this loss, We are truly sorry to hear of his passing.
