“ Sandi and family I am so sorry to hear of your loss. Ron was my training officer and taught me everything about being a Trooper/life in general. He was my mentor and I had more respect for him than any officer I knew in the 25 years I was in the Department. He helped me grow up and taught me about life. Your family accepted me at my young age when reporting to Keyser and that I will never forget. God bless and let me know if I can do anything. RIP brother.

“ To the Family, My sincere condolences to you all on the loss of your dear loved One. I know that this is a very difficult time for you. The loss of a precious family member and the pain that we experience from that loss is not easy. May you find comfort and strength in Jehovah Gods words at Revelation 21:4, which gives us a sure promise that death will be no more, neither will mourning, nor outcry, nor pain be anymore. I pray that He will grant you peace at this most difficult time. I am so sorry.

“ Sandi, my heart was heavy when I read your sad news. I have only good memories of RVP and so much respect I dont think I can remember ever calling him by his first name. He was a mentor to me, one I highly respected because of his high moral grounds. I am very sorry for the loss you are dealing with. Please accept my condolences.
