

Ryan Hulse

December 31, 1969 - September 13, 2015

Obituary of Ryan Hulse After a seemingly endless wait by his father Wayne and mother Veronica, Ryan was finally enticed to enter this world on Thursday, September 15, 1977. In spite of his resistance and loud protests to having an earthly existence he arrived at 6:16 PM in Southampton Hospital, Southampton, New York. His older sister, Rebecca was waiting for him.. As his father predicted, he had red hair. Ryan was raised in Springs, East Hampton, New York. He attended Springs School and East Hampton Middle and High Schools.He grew up surrounded by many loving Aunts, Uncles and cousins. As a little boy, he was shy and didn't trust strangers. I know that later in life he had many friends and he became especially close to his younger cousin, Chet Stahler. As toddlers, they created their own magical mischief.Ryans grandparents were Kevin and Audrey Kehoe of Yonkers, New York and Royce and Florence Hulse of Hampton Bays, New York.He always did his best to help others. He hated those who were mean, unjust or dishonest. He did his utmost to encourage his niece Bailey and nephew Tristan. One of his friends stated that heaven has gained a strong, patriotic and spiritual Irish Catholic conservative. Our loss is Heavens gain. Ryan will live forever in the hearts and memories of those he left behind.

“ Sorry for your loss. I only knew Ryan from Facebook. He would often comment on my posts. I knew him to be a very personable and patriotic young man, and that's what drew me to read his responses. My mother passed Sept 7th. and I've been in a daze as I'm sure you understand. I've just began back with my groups and realized Ryan was missing. Im so sorry for your lose.

“ I met Ryan through an online game almost 7 years ago. I had no idea we would actually become friends. Ryan evolved and matured a lot over the last couple of years and that speaks loads about him. Not everyone chooses to grow in their adult years. I liked Ryan when I first met him and liked him more and more each day. He was charismatic, loyal, loving, caring and plain fun. Ryan was full of life and love. He loved his family, his friends and people in general. And he loved God. I trust Ryan has found happiness with Him in heaven. He touched so many and is loved and missed deeply.

“ Ryan will always hold a special place in my heart. I miss him dearly and I still can't believe he is gone. To all of Ryan's family, please know that Ryan touched many lives. His gentle soul and constant outreach made him special and loved by all. For you my dear Ryan, I wish things had been different and not turned out this way, but I know you are an angel, still caring for others in the special way you know how. I miss you and hold you close. Love, Carla

“ I have been thinking of you and your Mom for a very long time and wondering how you all were. I saw your Facebook page when I was looking for your Mother and absolutely loved looking at the pictures you had posted. I was so happy to see what a handsome, big, strong man you had become. I will always remember you as that adorable little red haired boy that was so inquisitive about everything. You were the cutest thing I ever saw. I wish you were still here but hopefully there is a heaven where you are very happy and loved as you were here on earth. Goodbye beautiful baby boy, but you will always be in our hearts.

“ Uncle RYAN. I am going to miss you so much. I used to look forward to our conversations all the time. it's so hard to believe I can't just pick up the phone and talk to you when I need to. all those places you wanted to visit with me I promise to do in your honor. I gave you my promise that I would always take care of grandma. I will look after your azaleas as well. All my love always. You were the best Uncle I could ask for. Please say "hi" to Grandpa and Shadow. P.S we all know grandma cant drive lol :)
