“ It's been almost 2weeks and I don't know the exact words to say it's been really rough without you here. I just want to pick up the phone but then I have to think your not here anymore...over the years I gave you so much hell I know I was a handful but you did a damn good job with me and Jess. I don't know how to really go on without you being here for the simple fact your the one I always ran to when things got hard for me and now I have no one any longer. People have been saying it will get easier mom but I don't think it ever will to be quite honest with you. I want to make sense of all this and I want to know what happened but you and God only know that... please continue to watch over the family and also give dad, pappy and grandma a hug for me I love you more than any words can say!

“ Babe we've known each other for 23 years, had our ups and downs but always managed to come together. I love you very much and I miss sooooo much. You weren't suppose to go before me. I promise Jessica and Lexi will be taken care of to the best of my capabilities. I'm glad you're not in pain anymore. I'll never forget you, or us. You were my best friend, lover, and most of all my confidant. You made me laugh and smile a lot and I was so blessed to have you in my life as well as in my heart which is where you'll always stay. I love you babe.

Love ,
Scott
