“ Dear Sandy, what a sweet person. You will surely be missed by the many who knew you. My condolences to Sandy's family. Please remember the wonderful memories you shared and may they, over time, replace your sorrow.

“ I was shocked to hear of Sandy's transition from this earthly world into the heavenly realm. Our father needed an angel and he chose Sandy. You were one of those classmates that can't be forgotten. We'll have the memories of your kind hearted personality always. Rest in the arms of our Father Sandy. You will be missed.

“ I worked with Sandy at TOI and chatted with her sometimes. She was so sweet and nice to talk with. She sounded so hopeful the last time I heard from her but she was taken away too soon. I hope God finds a very special place for her in heaven. Thanks for being such a nice person Sandy! Condolences to the family, I know she will be missed.

“ It is with great sadness that we must now live without our Special Sandy. Sandy joined us a few years ago as one of the gang. It's always so difficult to lose someone so special, and Sandy was indeed a very special person. Although we never had the opportunity to actually meet in person, I could say that as an employer, Sandy was a remarkable employee, and maybe more importantly, I could say that Sandy was a great coworker; but MOST importantly, Sandy became a true, fast friend. I will miss our chats, conversations, phone calls, and emails, checking out her latest art projects or the latest recipe. Maybe the best way to remember her is to remember all the fun things, the funny things, and even the more serious heart-to-hearts. Sandy, you will be missed terribly by all of us.
