“ I remember when I had first met you it was a bright sunny day in Bronson the country artist Craig Morgan had a benefit concert to help raise money for our local humane society. It was before the concert had started . You and a close family friend of mind were doing security detail and directing traffic . I didn't know from that point on how much you would leave an impact on my life . You helped me through a couple rough times in my youth now I'm much older . I never really gotten the chance to thank you for all the support and encouragement you had given me back then . I can't thank you enough . I'll never forget waking up and recieving the news ..... It's like someone had punched me in the chest . Idk how else to discribe the pain . It hurts so much . But to know youre in heaven means allot . It assures to me one day my brother we will see each other again . You're family is always in my thoughts and prayers .Rest in peace Noel hugs to the moon and backP.s. I just know you would be so happy to know I am Happily married now to my husband Andrew and we have a beautiful daughter Lillianna who is in heaven with you and many others watching over us. But could you please do me a favour and let my daughter know I love and miss her . And maybe watch over her for me thanks miss you rest in peace my brother I'll continue the watch down here . Until we meet againYour friend foreverKristin Townsend Biesiada
