“ When I first met Terry I was an awkward 16 year old. She had her first baby in her belly and tenderly invited me to feel the baby kick his little foot inside of her. She was so open and willing to let me into her heart and she into mine. Though separated in recent years by distance and circumstance my love for her is as strong as that first tender moment when we were girls together becoming women. A most precious friend and I send my love to all those in sorrow for her passing. Aunt Kathy
