

Thomas Allen Cass III

October 15, 1991 - November 14, 2021

Thomas Allen Cass III, unexpectedly passed away in the early hours of Sunday, November 14, 2021, at the young age of 30. And although he left this world too soon, we know he is safe and at home in the arms of our Heavenly Father.

Thomas, lovingly known as Booboo by his family, was born in Park Ridge, Illinois, on October 15, 1991. With dimpled cheeks and an easy grin, he brightened our lives with his humor and his playful mischief. He was known for his enormous heart, kindness, and the love he had for his children. He was also a talented basketball player, mechanic, and contractor and a beloved son, brother, grandson, and friend.

He leaves behind his parents, Thomas and Darlene, who love him more than words can express. He is also survived by his three children Janessa, 9, Little Thomas, 4, and Katalina, 2; his brother Stephen; and his grandparents, Pedro and Alicia Feliciano. His bird, Mickey, who has been with him from the beginning, will miss his head bops and whistles; and his dog, Christopher Robin, will miss his snuggles. He also leaves behind too many extended family and friends who miss him terribly.

“ I met Cass while we were both incarcerated and became fast friends. His jokes and sense of humor made our situation much more manageable. He had all the perks in prison, probably because of his wittiness and the charm that radiated from him. A master card player, watching his games as he dominated was always entertaining. A small group of us worked, went to school, cooked and lived together and if we ever needed anything, Cass was there to help. One thing that I'll never forget was how he made fun of the weightlifting enthusiasts by creating his own workouts and demonstrating them to us. That was HILARIOUS. I randomly think of that till this day. It was a pleasure to be around him, never ever a dull moment. I love you bro and I'm sorry that you're no longer here. May God bless you and your family.
