“ It has been a struggle for me to write here, as my mother was such a loving mother, who somehow put up with all of my shenanigans, and her passing is very painful to me.... She was such a loving mother, and stubborn/strong woman, that I honestly thought that she would outlive me.. She was often my savior when I did something stupid, (which I did often), and always had words of wisdom that I will never forget... No words can truly describe how much I loved her, and I am left with another hole in my heart over her passing... My only solace comes from my knowledge of her faith in God, (which she passed on to me), so I know she is in a better place, and will be a watchful angel over all of us... I will think of her daily... The world lost a great soul last Tuesday, and she will never be forgotten.. I love you mom... 🥹

“ A fond and funny memory with Aunt Ginny. Eating cereal at her house and when the cereal was gone I turned the bowl up to slurp the milk (like you do). She said "Oh thank God", and proceeded to turn her bowl up. We just giggled. She will be missed.
